Dear Maria,

I was wondering if I could please have some extension regarding the submission of our revised manuscript for International Journal of Women's Health. We have done all the corrections and addressed all the comments. However, we need more time to final copy editing the paper. So, if it is possible, can we please have an extension deadline of submission on the 20th of March 2020?

Please apologise for very late informing this issue.

Thank you and looking forward to hearing from you.

Dear Dr Anggraini

We have partnered with digital content services company Integra to streamline our production process in order to provide a more efficient service to you as one of our authors.

If you are a returning author, you may notice some changes to our corrections process due to the launch of an online correction tool. The tool will allow you to make corrections to your author proof online. The tool is visually similar to a Word document and will operate in a similar manner. You will also be able to view the PDF proof enabling you to fix any formatting issues that might arise during the corrections process.

We are excited to launch the online correction tool and to seeing how it will make the corrections process speedier and more efficient for you, however, if you encounter any problems please do not hesitate to email me for assistance.

Dear Ms. Phimester,

I have approved the corrections as per suggested.

However, I did not know how to upload the copyright since there are no tools (maybe I did not know the menu) to upload it on the icorrectproof, so I just typed it on the response to the questions.

Here, I provided the previously published paper where I adopted the figures and tables from in the manuscript. On this paper there is a copyright statement that I think it allows the adoption of figures and tables as long as the paper is cited properly and here is the copyright statement on the paper:
"Copyright © 2018 Dewi Anggraini et al. This is an open access article distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited".

I hope this will be enough.

Thank you.
