Dear Editor:

Please find enclosed our manuscript entitled "Investigation of Saba Banana Marketing Efficiency: Structure, Conduct, and Performance Approach" which we request you to consider for publication as an Original Article in the International Journal of Biosciences (IJB)

Choosing the right marketing channels and minimizing market inefficiencies is very important, especially for smallholders in developing countries, to improve their food security. On the other hand, the Saba banana is one of the banana cultivars from the Philippines that has an important role and has economic potential in industrial exports. Although many other researchers have researched marketing channel patterns and efficiency in the past, limited information is available on assessing marketing efficiency with a holistic approach starting from market structure and conduct, which ultimately has implications for market performance. Therefore, Our article contributes to the literature on marketing channel patterns and analysis of saba banana marketing efficiency with structure, conduct, and performance approach.

This manuscript has not been published elsewhere and is not under consideration by another journal. We have approved the manuscript and agree with submission to the International Journal of Biosciences (IJB). There are no conflicts of interest to declare.

I beg and sincerely hope that this article will be received as soon as possible, by April of this year, because I use this article as one of the requirements for graduation from the Doctoral Program. Thank you for accepting our manuscript and considering it for review. We value your time and look forward to hearing from you at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Rokhman Permadi
