Abstract	Extensive reading is regarded as beneficial activity to give rich input for students' language development. To make it more interesting for students, poster presentation can be integrated as the variation in the reading activity. This study aimed to investigate students' perception on the use of poster presentation in Extensive Reading class. It was a project done by students to read a short story they chose from internet, make the summary as well as design it into a poster. The tutoring activity was conducted to keep the students on the right track while doing the project. This research was investigated by using questionnaire with Likert-scale. The questionnaire also revealed their opinion about tutoring activity, group work, and poster presentation. The result revealed that the students perceived the poster presentation beneficial to cooperation and creativity of the students. Poster presentation can be integrated in extensive reading class with tutoring and group work to enhance its benefits. Keywords: poster presentation, extensive reading, reading comprehension

14th Annual CamTESOL Conference: Acceptance of Abstract

Dear Ms. Asmi Rusmanayanti Rusmanayanti

Thank you for submitting an abstract(s) for the Main Conference of 14th Annual CamTESOL Conference on English Language Teaching. We are pleased to inform you that your paper/workshop/poster session has been accepted to present at the 14th Annual CamTESOL Conference. Congratulations!

The Committee has not yet developed the timetable, as you are required to REGISTER by 05 January 2018 to guarantee that you are coming to present your paper/workshop/poster session. This will assist us to prepare the timetable.

If you do not register by 05 January 2018, we will assume that you will be unable to attend and your presentation will not be included in the conference program.

Current Details of Your Presentation

The Program Committee may make/has made some adjustments to each abstract to best accommodate the range of abstracts that have been accepted. Bearing in mind these changes, your current presentation details are as follows:

Title	: Students" Perception on the Use of Poster Presentation in Extensive Reading
Author(s)	: RUSMANAYANTI Asmi Rusmanayanti, AMRINA Rosyi Amrina

Style	: 30 Minute Paper
Stream	: Teaching Reading (REA)
A/V Requirement	: LCD, Laptop

Points to Consider

The Program Committee requests you to consider the following points:

1. The Program Committee reviewed a very large number of abstracts and competition for places was subsequently very high. For those who have submitted to the CamTESOL Conference, please note that abstracts which are selected have the following good points:
 - a. They are based on actual research by presenters.
 - b. They are relevant/applicable to the regional context.
 - c. They have a clear description of methodology in terms of how the research has been conducted.
2. Some abstracts (including titles) may be edited for the program so that they reflect a standardised length and format of presentation.
3. If you would like your paper to be considered for the Language Education in Asia publication, we request that you submit an electronic copy of your paper (Microsoft Word or Rich Text Format) to LEiA Secretariat at submission@leia.org. The deadline for paper submission is 08 March 2018.
4. For both papers and workshops, we request you to leave a designated period of time for questions and audience interaction at the end. Some sessions will have a chairperson, and you can inform the chair of your chosen format before the session, so that the chair can assist you in timing during the session.
5. The theme of the conference is English Language Teaching in the Digital Era. Papers and workshops that reflect this theme and directly address the audience will help ensure the cohesiveness of the conference.
6. Photocopy facilities will NOT be available at the conference venue. A local institution will be hosting this conference. Please bring handouts with you. We recommend a minimum of 50 copies.

Registration

Registration opens on 01 September 2017. All presenters must register before 05 January 2018 or they will not be timetabled.

How to Register

- Click here to register through the conference website
- Use the CamTESOL App available for free download

There will be a choice of seven Cultural and Educational Site Visits available on 09 February 2018 (Friday Morning) prior to the conference. Since they will be conducted concurrently, only one option is available.

The CamTESOL-UECA Regional ELT Research Symposium will be hosted on 09 February 2018 (All Day) and will focus on promoting language research in the region.

Your Arrival in Phnom Penh

If you plan on joining one of the Cultural and Educational Site Visits, we suggest you arrive in Phnom Penh on or by Thursday 08 February 2018. The Cultural and Educational Site Visits are on Friday morning and none of the currently scheduled international flights arrive in time for you to reach the point of departure for the site visits in time.

Presenters will also be invited to a "Presenters' Warm Up" (Welcome) function on the Friday evening, 09 February 2018, prior to the conference. We will send you a separate invitation to this event shortly before the conference.

Communication

Please feel free to contact us at any time if you have questions. We aim to provide as much information as is necessary on the website and through the CamTESOL Mobile App, so please refer to the website or the App first. We will continue to communicate with you in the lead-up to the conference. This communication may be in the form of a bulk e-mail to presenters or to international participants or to all participants. For this reason, we ask you to list our e-mail address as a non-spam address to reduce the possibility of relevant information being blocked by spam filters.

Please note that as a presenter, you are encouraged to register by 05 January 2018 to guarantee that you are coming to present your paper/workshop/poster session. This will assist us to prepare the timetable.

For enquiries, please email the CamTESOL Secretariat at secretariat@camtesol.org or send us a message through the app.

Best wishes and we look forward to seeing you in February 2018.
