Comments to the author:

The manuscript is well written. However there are numerous grammatical errors (Indicated in the text) and poor sentence construction. Authors will have to address these to make the manuscript more presentable. Abstract in Bahasa melayu need to be improved (Suggested text as indicated in the revised text). Discussion is too short, need to improve and additional information is crucial to make the discussion of the findings complete and scientific. Authors may refer to the reviewed MS for other technical comments.
