Reviewer A:

Dear authors,

Unfortunately, your paper is not good enough and does not provide a clear scientific novelty. However, Here are my benevolent suggestions:

- 1- To update the references list with newer (under 5 years) and relevant source
- 2- More information should be added for the abstract...such as clear methodology, conclusion.
- 3- High numbers of figures and tables
- 4- Authors should explain W/C ratio, Mix Proportions
- 5- The introduction needs to be improved to support the introduction and discussion by recent references.
- 6- the authors need to add a paragraph about the contributions of this subject to knowledge.

Recommendation: Revisions Required

-----

Reviewer B:

1. Thorough typing error correction should be conducted.
2. Before using any abbreviation, the full term must be explained in the text.
3. Abstract: the abstract needs to be summarized the main points and avoid unnecessary parts to better understanding and readability.

- Please underscore the scientific value added in the abstract. Add some of the most critical quantitative results to the Abstract.

1. Keywords:

- Keywords must indicate the main materials, tests, and methodology used in the study. However, it is required to revise the keywords and write based on the points mentioned above.

1. Introduction section to be comprehensive and needs to improve.

- It is required to critically review types of the D and F admixtures.

1. Results and discussion:

- The results should be explained in more detail to a better understanding by readers and compared the findings with the existing literature.

1. Conclusions:

- The conclusions need to be revised and improved. Please make sure the conclusion section underscores the scientific value added to the paper and the applicability of the findings/results. The conclusions are very general, with unnecessary statements.

- Eliminate repetition.
