Kepada: Prof. Dr. Andrejs Skesters <editor@eurchembull.com>

Dear Editor
ECB Journal

We have read and used scientific articles published in ECB Journal.

The performance of the ECB Journal was excellent, and the published article helped us conduct research and write scientific articles.

I am Arfa Agustina Rezekiah. Represent other authors, a lecturer from Universitas Lambung Mangkurat

We have completed a scientific article entitled "Cinnamon Farmer's Household Capital of the Dayak Meratus Tribe."

We hope this article can be published in the ECB Journal because there are interesting findings in the scientific article that can become new treasures in sciences, especially in the field of health sciences.

We are willing to go through the review process following ECB Journal standards.

Best Regards,

Arfa Agustina Rezekiah

Dear
Arfa Agustina Rezekiah et al.
Universitas Lambung Mangkurat

Thank you for submitting your manuscript to ECB Journal.

We have completed our evaluation, and the reviewers recommend reconsidering the team manuscript following minor revisions. We invite the article to send back after addressing the comments below. Please resubmit the revised manuscript by March 31th, 2023, or ask whether an alternate date would be acceptable.

When revising the team manuscript, please consider carefully all issues mentioned in the reviewers' comments: outline every change made in response to their comments and provide suitable explanations for any comments not addressed. Please also note that the revised submission may need to be re-reviewed.

To submit a revised manuscript, please log in as an author at this email, and navigate to the "Revision" folder.

ECB Journal values team contribution, and I look forward to receiving the revised manuscript.

Editor and Reviewer comments:

Reviewer #1:

1. Elaboration on data collection methods: This article provides an overview of using quantitative and qualitative methods in collecting data. However, to improve quality, it is better to provide more detailed information on how the data was collected, including the sampling technique used in the household survey and in-depth interviews.
2. Further explanation is needed regarding the rating scale: In the research results, it was stated that five types of capital affected the income of cinnamon farmers, namely physical capital, human capital, financial capital, natural capital, and social capital. However, the authors can provide further explanation on how the rating scale for each capital is calculated and interpreted to strengthen the research findings.
3. Socio-cultural context: This article analyses the livelihoods of cinnamon farmer households. However, it is necessary to add the socio-cultural context of the Meratus Dayak tribe. Information about the Meratus Dayak traditions, values or customs that can affect the livelihoods of cinnamon farmers will provide a better understanding of the context of this study.
4. Policy and practical implications: This article could be improved by including a section on the policy and practical implications of the research findings. How can the results of this research be used to improve the livelihoods of cinnamon farmers and contribute to sustainable natural resource management? This will add value to the paper and make it more relevant in the context of sustainable development.
5. Keyword refinement: The keywords provided provide an overview of the research topic but could perhaps be expanded to include elements such as "non-timber agriculture," "sustainable livelihoods," or "natural resource conservation" to clarify the research focus and improve the accessibility of this article in scientific searches.

I hope the team can make improvements immediately and send the revised article again via this email.

Dear

Arfa Agustina Rezekiah et al.
Universitas Lambung Mangkurat

Thank you for your efforts to make improvements team article.

Based on the Reviewers' considerations, the article has, at some point, increased.

However, the team has to improve on a few more points. Hopefully, the team is willing to do it.

Please follow the following revision instructions:

#Reviewer 2:

1. Reinforcement of theoretical arguments: This article provides a good overview of the livelihoods of cinnamon farmer households, but it can be strengthened by linking research findings with relevant theories. For example, the writer can link the concept of social capital with theories related to social capital in the social sciences, such as social network theory or Robert Putnam's theory of social capital.
2. Deeper analysis of research results: The research results presented provide an overview of the level of capital that affects the income of cinnamon farmers. However, to improve the quality of the article, the author can provide a more in-depth analysis of factors that might influence variation in the level of capital among respondents, such as education, access to resources, or social interaction.
3. More information on research locations: This article mentions that the research was conducted in two villages but preferably provides additional information about these villages' geographical and social contexts. For example, unique environmental factors, natural resource management systems, or local community dynamics can affect the livelihoods of cinnamon farmers.
4. The clarity in concept definition and terminology: This article uses several concepts and terminology, such as "capital" and "modal interaction", without providing clear definitions. To improve the quality of the article, it is important to provide clear and operational definitions of these concepts so that readers can properly understand and follow the research arguments.
5. More detailed presentation of findings: This article provides general findings about the level of capital affecting cinnamon farmers' income. However, to improve the quality of the article, it is advisable to provide more detailed information about the most influential types of capital and the factors that explain the differences in the level of capital among respondents. This will provide deeper insight into the livelihoods of cinnamon farmers.

Articles that have been revised and please send them back via this email.
