Ms. Ref. No.: JPPRes-22-1474

Title: Antibacterial activity of Stachytarpheta jamaicensis (L.) Vahl Roots Extract on Some Selected Mouth Pathogenic Bacteria: an in silico and in vitro study

Dear Dr. Juliyatin Putri Utami,

Your submission "Antibacterial activity of Stachytarpheta jamaicensis (L.) Vahl Roots Extract on Some Selected Mouth Pathogenic Bacteria: an in silico and in vitro study" has been assigned manuscript number JPPRes-22-1474.

Please mention the above manuscript ID in all future correspondence or when calling the office for questions.

From this moment, if you have met all the requirements for submitting a manuscript to JPPRes, your manuscript will be handled by an Academic Editor to submit it to peer review. This process could take 5-8 weeks.

All articles in JPPRes are published in full open access. In order to provide free access to readers, and to cover the costs of peer review, copyediting, typesetting, long-term archiving, and journal management, an article-processing charge (APC) of 750 USD (US Dollars) applies to papers accepted after peer review. We only accept payments by PayPal for now.

Thank you for submitting your work to the Journal of Pharmacy and Pharmacognosy Research.

Sincerely yours,

Prof. Gabino Garrido

NOTE:

English Language Editing: For editors and reviewers to accurately assess the work presented in your manuscript you need to ensure the English language is of sufficient quality to be understood. If you need help with writing in English you should consider:

- Asking a colleague who is a native English speaker to review your manuscript for clarity.
- Visiting the English language tutorial which covers the common mistakes when writing in English.
- Using a professional language editing service where editors will improve the English to ensure that your meaning is clear and identify problems that require your review.

Article ID: JPPRes-22-1474

Dear Author,

The proof of your paper "Antibacterial activity of Stachytarpheta jamaicensis (L.) Vahl roots extract on some bacteria proteins: An in silico and in vitro study", which is scheduled to appear in a future issue of JOURNAL OF PHARMACY & PHARMACOGNOSY RESEARCH, has now been uploaded as PDF file (in attached file).

Please, note that this file should be annotated electronically and returned by email to editor@jppres.com or jppres12@gmail.com

If you are unable to electronically annotate the document please you write the corrections in a word or txt file and indicate where they should be placed in the document.

Proofread the file for information accuracy against your manuscript copy. Your article production ID is noted at the top of this message - please refer to it in all correspondence.

Acrobat Reader & Acrobat Professional

You will only be able to annotate the file using Acrobat Reader 7.0 or above and Acrobat Professional. Acrobat Reader can be downloaded free of charge at the following address: <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html>

NOTE: Earlier versions of Acrobat Reader do not have annotating capabilities.

Corrections

We ask you to check the proof carefully, paying particular attention to the accuracy of text, equations, tables, illustrations (which may have been redrawn), other numerical matter and references (which have been corrected for the style but not checked for accuracy, which remains the responsibility of the author).

To facilitate PDF proofing, low-resolution images may have been used in this file. However, high-resolution images will be used in the final published version. If you have any queries regarding the quality of the artwork, please contact the Production Editor.

Returning Corrections

Please keep a copy of the corrected proof for reference in any future correspondence concerning your paper before publication. Please return your corrected proof or advise the Senior Production Editor if you have no corrections (email is sufficient) within 3 days of receipt. Please return your annotated PDF proof by email (editor@jppres.com).

If you are unable to correct your proof using electronic annotation, please print out your proof and mark corrections onto the hard copy, using standard and consistent symbols, by following the marking in the proof correction symbols located on the e-proofing and scan these. Please return the corrected proof by e-mail. Alternatively, email a list of your corrections to the email mentioned below.

Further Queries

If you have any questions about accessing the PDF file of the proofs, printing, correcting or returning proofs, please contact the Senior Production Editor at editor@jppres.com
